++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Warm sunshine, although cool on the coast.

Today:
A dry and mainly sunny day with some warm sunshine again inland, the highest temperatures through the Trossachs. However, the North Sea coasts will be cooler due to onshore winds with also the risk of low cloud and haar. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and mainly sunny end to the day with mostly clear skies overnight. The east coast at risk of some low cloud and haar, this most likely in Angus. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Wednesday:
Sunny skies and some warmth still to be found through the Trossachs and western Perthshire. But a fresher feel for many due to brisk easterly winds, coastal haar still possible. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A few showery bursts of rain on Thursday, but mainly dry and bright. Rain or showers in the west on Friday, brighter in the east. Bright with showers on Saturday.
